Image 2 (Pexels):

Summary:

Winter cloud seeding certainly looks very dramatic and gives the impression that something is demonstrably being done by the government, Jairam Ramesh said.

Detailed analysis:

The article highlights political controversy over Delhi's cloud-seeding programme, a geo-engineering effort aimed at combating winter haze. For UPSC and other exam aspirants, it underscores the intersection of environmental policy, federal-state relations, and the scientific viability of weather modification. Candidates should note the arguments about cost-effectiveness, environmental impact, and the role of political opposition in shaping climate-action narratives.
