Image 2 (Pexels):

Summary:

The Forest Department explains in the GR that repeated sightings of monkeys in urban markets, housing societies and farms had made the step necessary

Detailed analysis:

Highlights rising human-wildlife conflict in urban Maharashtra. The 10 km relocation directive aims to protect both public safety and monkey welfare, but enforcement will require coordination with local bodies. Aspirants should note the legal basis (GR) and its implications for wildlife management policies under the Wildlife Protection Act.
