Summary:

A significant 88% of individual taxpayers have opted for the new tax regime, with the government not planning a sunset clause for the old regime. The new regime offers lower tax rates and exemptions for those earning up to Rs 15 lakh annually. The Budget also proposes changes to MAT and STT to influence taxpayer behavior.

Detailed analysis:

Exam focus: high adoption rate signals confidence in lower-rate structure. Remember the income ceiling (₹15 lakh) for maximum benefit and that the government retains the old regime, allowing taxpayers to switch annually.
