Summary:

The facts show that the project's 'advantages' are sweeping claims that downplay its considerable 'costs'

Detailed analysis:

The piece critiques the Great Nicobar port scheme, highlighting ecological degradation, loss of tribal land, and questionable economic returns. For exam preparation, focus on the intersection of infrastructure development, biodiversity hotspots (Andaman & Nicobar Islands), and the principle of sustainable development under the UN SDGs. It also illustrates challenges in balancing strategic interests with environmental clearances under the EIA 2020 framework.
